What Theatre Makers Say

"The Production Toolkit saved us weeks of preparation time. The rehearsal plan was particularly helpful in keeping our cast on track. We'll definitely be returning for our next show!"

— Michael Thompson, Director, Riverside Community Theatre

"'All Together Now' was a perfect fit for our community theatre. The characters were so well-written that auditions were packed! The marketing materials included in the package made promotion a breeze."

— Jessica Williams, Producer, Oakwood Players

"The adult panto 'Treasure Island' absolutely packed our venue for three weeks straight. The audience feedback was incredible, and the Director's Workbook made my job so much easier."

— David Chen, Artistic Director, The Underground

Frequently Asked Questions

Can I preview the scripts before purchasing?

Absolutely! Visit stagemaxlive.com to access free read-only versions of any script that interests you. There's no obligation to purchase, and you can preview as many scripts as you like.

What does the performance license cover?

The included performance license allows unlimited performances during the specified period (3, 6, or 12 months depending on your package). There are no additional royalty fees per performance during this period.

Can I modify the script for my production?

Basic and Pro packages require the script to be performed as written. The Premium package includes customization rights, allowing you to adapt the script to your specific needs (while maintaining the core story and characters).

How quickly will I receive my Script Pro Package after purchase?

All materials are delivered digitally within 24 hours of purchase. You'll receive an email with download links for all components of your chosen package.

What if the script doesn't work for our theatre group?

We stand behind our scripts! If you find the script doesn't meet your needs within 14 days of purchase and before your first rehearsal, we offer a one-time exchange for a different script of equal value.

Do you offer discounts for educational institutions?

Yes! Schools, colleges, and universities qualify for our Education Discount Program. Contact our team with your institutional details to receive a special discount code.
